Program Goal
Marshall Scholarships support young Americans of high ability to study for a degree in the United Kingdom. Candidates are invited to indicate two preferred universities, but interest in studying at universities outside of London as well as the University of Oxford and University of Cambridge is particularly welcome. Each year at least 40 students are selected as Marshall Scholars.

ELIGIBILITY

- U.S. Citizen
- College Seniors and Recent Graduates with a 3.7 GPA or higher.
- Students who plan to study in a program offered at a UK institution.
- Persons already studying for or holding a British degree or degree-equivalent qualification are not eligible to apply for a Marshall Scholarship.
- Crucial factors in the selection of Marshall Scholars include: A candidate’s choice of course, choice of university, and academic and personal aptitude.

Applying with FSU
Applicants must be endorsed by an institution at which they have completed two years of full-time undergraduate or postgraduate study. The Office of National Fellowships (ONF) supports all of Florida State University’s Marshall Applicants. Assistance is offered in the form of individual student meetings to discuss candidacy and project ideas, essay workshopping, and technical support. Material resources include Marshall writing guides, sample Marshall essays, Marshall reference letter guides, and interview preparation. For more information regarding the Marshall scholarship please contact:

Application Procedures

To access the Project Proposal form, please complete an Intent to Participate form through Survey Monkey. To be considered for a Florida State University nomination, candidates must submit the names and email addresses of four recommenders along with their best drafts of the application essays no later than 3 PM Wednesday, June 28, 2023.

FSU Marshall candidates must be endorsed by the university. Candidates must submit all application materials no later than 3 PM on Wednesday, August 16, 2023. The campus deadline is a hard deadline. Incomplete applications will not be considered for university endorsement after this date. A completed application includes a complete online Marshall Application, four electronic Letters of Recommendation, and Official Transcripts (from all colleges attended).

Candidates are strongly encouraged to review the Rules for Candidates and Memorandum of Guidance. All internal application materials should conform to application guidelines determined by the general Marshall Scholarships Application.

Incomplete applications will not be considered by the Florida State University Marshall Faculty Committee. Any questions or concerns about the on-line application procedures should be directed to the Office of National Fellowships. Your materials will be reviewed by a faculty committee comprised of former Marshall Scholars. Interviews will be scheduled for mid-September for applicants who are considered strong candidates.
